FOREIGN EXCHANGE HEDGING

- Successfully renegotiated positive changes to foreign exchange hedging contract terms including:
 - Waiver of counterparty's August 2009 and August 2010 options to terminate
 - Permanent removal of the LTV ratio covenant
 - Permanent amendment of the minimum securityholders' equity covenant reducing the threshold to A$250m (previously A$458m)
 - In August 2009, collateralised the hedge position by posting ¥2.4bn with the counterparty. The collateral will remain with the counterparty to the extent that any hedging obligations on behalf of AJA remain outstanding
- Partial termination of the A$/¥ hedge book, reducing the capital amount hedged by 22%
 - Capital hedge terminated was to originally mature in 2015 with a principal amount of ¥2.5bn (A$28.5m at A$=¥87.60)
 - Termination of hedge resulted in net cash loss of A$4.8m
 - Only second time since 2005 inception that any A$/¥ hedges have been terminated. Previous termination resulted in a net cash profit of A$18.8m
 - Reduction in capital hedge book expected to reduce income by approximately A$1.3m or 0.25 cps per year
 - Elimination of long-dated hedge after a significant run-up in the value of the A$ against the ¥ in the past 12 months greatly reduces potential pressure from the hedge book if trend reversed significantly

- Key benefits of the consolidation are expected to include:
 - Improved trading liquidity
 - Reduced transaction costs to investors in dealing in AJA securities
 - Reduced administrative costs
- Full details of the proposed consolidation, including the proposed ratio for consolidation into a smaller number of securities, will be provided in the Notice of Meeting

Outlook

OPERATING OUTLOOK

- Vacancy rates for Tokyo Central five wards showing signs of slowing having approached high single-digit peak levels of past downturns
- Valuers believe 2011 will see a stabilisation – and even in places perhaps an improvement – in cap rates in Japan
- AJA portfolio performance, although weak over the prior period in the relatively volatile office segment, continues to benefit from a high – 48% – proportion of non-cancellable revenues, which are predominantly retail, the largest segment of the portfolio

STRATEGIC PRIORITIES AND GOALS

Securing core equity value in AJA's three main property portfolios

- Of AJA's NTA of $0.71 per security, JPT, already refinanced for five years in March 2010, accounts for approximately $0.36
- Almost all of the balance of AJA's NTA comes from the equity value in JPTS, to be refinanced in December 2010, and JPTC, to be refinanced in December 2012
- These 3 core portfolios, which have a combined LTV of 64.2%, are the focus of management efforts to refinance/de-leverage to protect this equity value in a capital efficient manner

Hedging: Ongoing reduction of distribution and capital hedging

- Distribution hedges: Will run-off over coming 12 months; not expected to be re-implemented for further periods of more than 12 months, if at all
- Capital Hedges: Book has been reduced by approximately 64% in the past 2 years. Continued focus on opportunistic reduction. First maturity due in August 2011

Security price and liquidity: Security consolidation

- Board intends to seek securityholder approval at November 2010 AGM to undertake a stapled security consolidation

Continuity of distributions

- Continued focus on prudent capital management which seeks to maximise equity returns and ensure, as far as possible consistent with that prudence, continuation of distributions to securityholders
- Based on current market conditions and the anticipated outcome of the December 2010 refinancing, the Board provides distribution guidance for FY11 of 4.50 cents per security
